Boy, 7, Found After Wandering Six Days in Wild Arizona Area

Winslow, Ariz., Nov. 6 (AP)—Fellow grade school pupils spoke in awe of the exploits of Bruce Crozier, 7, who survived almost a week of hunger and exposure in one of Arizona's wildest areas. But forest service officials raised the question of repayment of approximately $4,000 spent in feeding and equipping 800 searchers.

Bruce, recuperating in a Holbrook hospital, just wise-cracked with nurses. His ordeal ended late Saturday as he walked into a deer hunting camp in Wildcat canyon, 60 miles south of here.

Dr. R. L. Davis, marveling at Bruce's hardy constitution, reported that after a day of rest he was "about as good as new."

Supervisor Fred Merkle, of Sitgreaves National forest, and other forest officials began to worry about collecting $4,000 advanced for food and equipment during the search.

Public subscription campaigns started simultaneously in Winslow and Holbrook will defray part of the expense.

LARGE CROWD ATTENDS C. E. RALLY, SUNDAY

Despite rainy weather, a capacity crowd filled the Zion Lutheran church, Fairfield, on Sunday afternoon to attend the annual rally sponsored by the missionary department of the Adams County Christian Endeavor union.

The meeting was opened by a song service conducted by the Rev. Emmert Colestock, pastor of the host church, and followed by devotions by Mildred Coshum assisted by Myrtle Raffensperger. The devotional period featured a vocal solo by Robert Kerr, of Carlisle. The following county officers also participated in the service: Vivian Brumard, John MacPhail, Jean Thomas, Charles Lott and Nettie Raffensperger.

Garnet Schwartz, the speaker for the afternoon, was introduced by Charles Gentler, of Shippensburg. Mr. Schwartz, who has spent 11 years in China doing mission work, built his theme around the title "Life," wherein he compared the physical life with the spiritual life. "Many men have advanced theories regarding the origin and the maintenance of life, but they all fall short at one point. How much simpler it would be to solve the problem with one word, God," said Mr. Schwartz.

The offering was sung by Florence Waddles, of Fairfield. A male quartet from the Arendtsville Christian Endeavor society, composed of Robert Carey, Bruce Raffensperger, Samuel Raffensperger and Earl Stum, sang "Send the Light."

The Bendersville society won the award for the most complete attendance and received a missionary book.

The rally was closed with the benediction by the Rev. A. R. Longacker, of Littlestown.

5 DISTRICTS TO GET TUITION

The state will pay a total of $806.42 to five school districts in the county for tuition of high school pupils for the year ending, July, 1939. Differences in classification of school districts account for these special payments.

FIRE IN CHIMNEY

The Gettysburg fire company was called out at about 5:30 o'clock Saturday evening to put out a chimney fire at the home of Roland Adams, a mile east of here along the Lincoln highway. Tanks of chemicals and a line from a booster tank were used to put out the blaze.

Gov. Bob Jones said the state would provide some assistance through his contingency fund.

Bruce was sitting on the running board of a car when Lee Brewer, of Pinedale, and Walter Marty, of Navajo, returned from hunting deer. He asked for a drink of water.

"Are you lost?" they asked. "Well, I wouldn't want to be lost any worse," he grinned through a mouth which had become dirt encircled from drinking from muddy water holes. "I was far enough in the woods this time."

Brewer and Marty then recognized their visitor and drove him to the little town of Hiber about 15 miles away. They telephoned his mother, Mrs. R. E. Crozier in Winslow.

Throughout questioning by gleeful searchers, he stuck to his story that he had not eaten in the more than six days he was lost.

Asked if he had nibbled at acorns, he remarked: "The squirrels beat me to them every time."

BISHOP PRESENT ASCORNERSTONE FOR H. S. IS LAID

A crowd estimated at nearly 500 persons stood in the rain Sunday afternoon at McSherrystown to watch the Most Rev. George L. Leech, bishop of the Harrisburg diocese of the Catholic church, preside over the laying of the cornerstone for the $200,000 Delone Catholic high school and then adjourned to the auditorium of the new grade school building for the remainder of the ceremonies.

Nearly a score of priests representing the nine parishes the new school will begin serving next September witnessed the exercises over which the Rev. Fr. Patrick F. McGee, rector at St. Mary's Catholic church, McSherrystown, presided as the master of ceremonies. There were addresses by Bishop Leech and the Rev. Fr. John P. O'Donnell, rector at Conewago chapel and dean of Adams county Catholics.

Because of the weather conditions only the brief ceremony surrounding the actual placing of the cornerstone was conducted at the building site. The addresses and songs by the high school choir were presented in the new grade school auditorium.

The new building is expected to be under roof by Christmas and is to be ready for use at the beginning of the school term next fall when about 400 Catholic boys and girls from nine parishes in this section, including St. Francis Xavier of Gettysburg, are expected to enroll.

Into the cornerstone were put coins, a newspaper account of the donation of the school by the Hanover attorney, a copy of the address by Bishop Leech delivered on Sunday, a copy of the first encyclical letter of Pope Pius XII and names and other information concerning prominent state and federal officials.

LARGE CROWD ATTENDS C. E. RALLY, SUNDAY

Despite rainy weather, a capacity crowd filled the Zion Lutheran church, Fairfield, on Sunday afternoon to attend the annual rally sponsored by the missionary department of the Adams County Christian Endeavor union.

The meeting was opened by a song service conducted by the Rev. Emmert Colestock, pastor of the host church, and followed by devotions by Mildred Coshun assisted by Myrtle Raffensperger. The devotional period featured a vocal solo by Robert Kerr, of Carlisle. The following county officers also participated in the service: Vivian Brumgard, John MacPhail, Jean Thomas, Charles Lott and Nettie Raffensperger.

Garnet Schwartz, the speaker for the afternoon, was introduced by Charles Gentzler, of Shippensburg. Mr. Schwartz, who has spent 11 years in China doing mission work, built his theme around the title "Life," wherein he compared the physical life with the spiritual life. "Many men have advanced theories regarding the origin and the maintenance of life, but they all fall short at one point. How much simpler it would be to solve the problem with one word, God," said Mr. Schwartz.

The offertory was sung by Florence Waddies, of Fairfield. A male quartet from the Arendtsville Christian Endeavor society, composed of Robert Carey, Bruce Raffensperger, Samuel Raffensperger and Earl Stum, sang "Send the Light."

The Bendersville society won the award for the most complete attendance and received a missionary book.

The rally was closed with the benediction by the Rev. A. R. Longanecker, of Littlestown.

BISHOP PRESENT ASCORNERSTONE FOR H. S. IS LAID

A crowd estimated at nearly 500 persons stood in the rain Sunday afternoon at McSherrystown to watch the Most Rev. George L. Leech, bishop of the Harrisburg diocese of the Catholic church, preside over the laying of the cornerstone for the $200,000 Delone Catholic high school and then adjourned to the auditorium of the new grade school building for the remainder of the ceremonies.

Nearly a score of priests representing the nine parishes the new school will begin serving next September witnessed the exercises over which the Rev. Fr. Patrick P. McGee, rector at St. Mary's Catholic church, McSherrystown, presided as the master of ceremonies. There were addresses by Bishop Leech and the Rev. Fr. John P. O'Donnell, rector at Conewago chapel and dean of Adams county Catholics.

Because of the weather conditions only the brief ceremony surrounding the actual placing of the cornerstone was conducted at the building site. The addresses and songs by the high school choir were presented in the new grade school auditorium.

The new building is expected to be under roof by Christmas and is to be ready for use at the beginning of the school term next fall when about 400 Catholic boys and girls from nine parishes in this section, including St. Francis Xavier of Gettysburg, are expected to enroll.

Into the cornerstone were put coins, a newspaper account of the donation of the school by the Hanover attorney, a copy of the address by Bishop Leech delivered on Sunday, a copy of the first encyclical letter of Pope Pius XII and names and other information concerning prominent state and federal officials.

NEXT WEEK'S MAJESTIC ATTRACTIONS
Monday and Tuesday — "DANCING CO-ED"
Wednesday — "THEY SHALL HAVE MUSIC"
Thursday — "PACK UP YOUR TROUBLES"
Friday and Saturday — "THE REAL GLORY"

Dancing Coed. Screenplay by Albert Mannheimer and Albert Treynor. Directed by S. Sylvan Simon. Cast: Lana Turner, Richard Carlson, Artie Shaw, Ann Rutherford, Lee Bowman, Thurston Hall, Leon Errol and Roscoe Karns.

Another collegiate yarn, but hold on!—this one is fresh, entertaining, brightly made.

It's a dancing contest—the prize a movie contract—that starts the story. Because of it a professional dancer (Turner) goes to college, where she meets the college paper's editor (Carlson) and—

But why go on? "Dancing Coed" is what the doctor ordered for fans who want light entertainment, and it's worth seeing if for no other reason than to watch a new star—Lana Turner—on the rise.

James Cagney will be seen at the Strand next Tuesday in the "Oklahoma Kid."

DR. RICHARD A. ARMS, college dramatic coach, has announced the complete cast for the Owl and Nightingale production of "Our Town," by Thornton Wilder, to be presented on Friday, November 17, in the Eddie Plank Memorial gymnasium.

Janet B. Lloyd and John W. McCarell will play the leading roles in this Pulitzer Prize-winning play which depicts the life of a New Hampshire village, dealing with the three so-called great adventures of living—love and death.

Others in the cast will be Jack Arnold, Edwin Greninger, Josephine Fish, Martha E. Dapp, Janet River, William Glenn, Chauncey M. Sanner, Melvin J. Freedman, Philip W. Warnke, Vera J. Norman, David E. Thomas and Harry L. Berkebile.

A picture appropriate for Book Week will be shown on November 13 and 14 at the Majestic. It is "All Out on the Western Front." The movie was made from one of the most outstanding novels of the last 25 years.

"THEY SHALL HAVE MUSIC"
Screenplay by Irmgard Von Cube and John Howard Lawson. Directed by Archie Mayo. Cast: Jochn

Heifetz, Joel McCrea, Andrea Leeds, Gene Reynolds, Walter Brennan, and Porter Hall.

The great violinist gives of himself generously in his first movie, and it is therefore a musical event. Heifetz is close-up, his fingers and bow in close-up, will command the interest of all music-minded fans.

He is assisted by a remarkable group of young symphonists, the Peter Meremblum California Junior Symphony orchestra, who are equally generous in its offerings. "They Shall Have Music" is a title applicable to the audience as well as to the poor children of the story's music school.

Brennan is head of this free school. To keep it going he needs credit and funds. To get both Gene Reynolds, as a young toughie regenerated by his desire to emulate Heifetz, goes to all lengths to enlist the violinist's support, wins out in time to forestall the impatient creditors headed by Porter Hall.

With different trimmings and much appealing sentiment, this is the story idea used in the Deanna Durbin-Stokowski film, "100 Men and a Girl." The picture has a charm of its own, however, in its abundance of youth. Little Miss Nash, in coloratura numbers, and Mary Ruth, at the piano, are spotlighted, the former a delightfully ingenious personality even without her music. Heifetz, in his few acting moments, plays with fitting dignity and humanness. The boy Reynolds and his youthful conferees steal the acting honors, with Brennan, McCrea and Miss Leeds, practically sideline characters. Mayo's direction emphasizes human comedy and heart stuff, and the story serves adequately to carry the musical feast.

This year's first Sunday evening musicale will be presented on November 12 at 8:45 o'clock in the Student Christian Association building on the college campus under the direction of Prof. W. Frederick Shaffer. Those students who will participate in the program are R. Taintor Smith, tenor, and Walter Freed, pianist. Dr. Francis C. Mason, of the English department, will give a brief reading of selected readings.

A BRONX cheer is a perfectly legal weapon to use against persons who sit behind you in a theatre and tell their Aunt Emma what's going to happen next.

Magistrate John F. X. Masterson, of New York, so ruled in the case of Bernard Fisher, 30, against whom Mrs. Laura McDonald White had made a complaint.

Fisher testified Mrs. White had persisted in telling a companion what would happen next in "Mutiny on the Bounty," which she had seen three times before. He said she did not heed any of his requests for silence, but emphasized her remarks by rapping the back of his seat with a mallet stick. Finally, he added, he gave her a Bronx cheer and stalked out.

Clark Gable and hamburgers are irresistible, even to vultures. Charlie, four-year-old king vulture, only one of his kind trained for motion pictures, escaped to a sycamore during filming of a scene with Gable in "Not Too Narrow, Not Too Deep." Gable offered the big bird a handful of hamburger, and after a few suspicious neck-crannings, Charlie flew to the star's head. While Gable gritted his teeth and held still, an attendant lunged for Charlie's legs—and in no time the bird was back in its cage.

WITH joyous Jane Withers the bravest little Ma-amselle in all France and those Ritz Brothers in the army, you're promised a whole kit bag of fun—and thrills too—in "Pack Up Your Troubles."

The Ritzes are a trio of vaudeville actors who enlist and find their way to France on a transport as nursemaids to a herd of army mules. Their nemesis is a hard-boiled Sergeant named "Angel Face," who works overtime keeping them busy.

Jane is the gay little Ma-amselle who befriends the Ritzes and adopts their baby mule, Margie, and she provides the picture with plenty of thrills when she finds a chance to save her long-lost father.

"Desperate Trail" will be the chief attraction at the Strand next Saturday. It features John Mack Brown, Fuzzy Knight and Bob Baker in the cast.

The setting is the Philippines, during the Moro-harassed days following the withdrawal of most of the American troops. A small staff of officers is left in charge of an inexperienced army of Filipinos at a village military post. Allpang (Komal) the Moro bandit chief, begins his campaign of terrorism as soon as the main body of American soldiers departs. To combat him there are two American lieutenants (Niven and Crawford), an American army doctor (Cooper), and two captains (Owen and Hicks).

The wild-west action starts almost immediately, continues without cease through two murders by Moro fanatics, the damming of the village's life stream, an expedition to release the dam, an outbreak of cholera, final breaking of the dam, and a whipping battle at the finish.

It's real gory, this "Real Glory," but it's exciting for action fans, and it has a share of spectacle—not the sort of film usually given "the Hollywood touch" but good in its type.

Toy soldiers were used as standins for the army of Lilliput in Paramount's "Gulliver's Travels." The toys were purchased to stand alongside of Sam Parker, model for Gulliver, so that artists could get proportionate sizes in mob scenes.

COMING to the Majestic theatre during the week of November 13 will be the following movies:

Monday and Tuesday—"All Quiet on the Western Front," with Louis Wolheim and Lew Ayres.

Wednesday—"Blackmail," with Edward G. Robinson.

Thursday—"Tropic Fury," with Richard Arlen and Andy Devine.

Friday and Saturday—"Roaring Twenties," with James Cagney, Priscilla Lane and Humphrey Bogart.

BROWDER WANTS HIS ACCUSER INVESTIGATED

Boston, Nov. 6 (AP)—Earl Browder, communist leader under indictment for using a false name on a passport, sought today an investigation of his accuser, Representative J. Parnell Thomas (R-N. J.) who, he said, was "himself sitting in congress x x x under a pseudonym."

Making his first public appearance since his release under bail, Browder called upon Attorney General Frank Murphy, in a speech Sunday night, to investigate Thomas. Browder also advocated socialism for this country and he hailed the soviet republic as the "world's greatest power for peace."

Browder declared Thomas was christened "John Parnell Feeny, Jr.," and that he had been unable to find any record where the congressman had had his name changed in the courts.

"I understand there is a federal statute that prohibits any person from holding office or drawing salary from the government under any name other than his own," said Browder, "since Attorney General Murphy has become interested in tracing down pseudonyms, is it too much to expect that he will look into this matter, along with many others that may be brought to his attention in the near future?"

Browder said that the Hoover administration knew all about his using a pseudonym on passports, but decided that it did not merit prosecution, and dropped the matter.

At Allendale, New Jersey, Representative J. Parnell Thomas replied to Browder's charge that he is using a false name by declaring that "everybody" knows he changed his name.

"Mr. Browder can't squeeze out of his own predicament by any smear attack," Thomas said. "He's caught, he knows he is, and it is about time. Everytime the reds or the bund want to attack me, they try to make my change of name a mystery."

Thomas said he took his mother's name through court action in Westchester county, New York, in 1919 after returning from World war service.

"I welcome any investigation by the attorney general on any question," Thomas said.

Indictments Returned

Pittsburgh, Nov. 6 (AP)—A federal grand jury, investigating Pittsburgh's construction industry in conjunction with a nation-wide anti-trust campaign, returned 36 additional indictments today, supplementing the indictment of 58 individuals, firms and association last Friday.

Most of the indictments contained additional counts against the electrical contractors named in the first true bills and charged them with making false certificates in connection with bids on public works which were financed with P.W.A. funds.

FARMERS AGAINST LOSSES

Washington, Nov. 6 (AP)—Uncle Sam went into the "red" in his first effort to insure American farmers against crop losses from drought, floods, hail, insects and other natural causes. The Federal Crop Insurance corporation, which last year inaugurated a nationwide program of crop insurance for wheat, reported today that it had paid indemnities in excess of its premium collections from insuring farmers. The corporation reported 135 claims paid in Pennsylvania up to Oct. 24.

Y., Nov. 6 (AP)—St. Bonaventure college authorities reported today that Clayton Tong, 22, president of the senior class and a member of the varsity football team, was killed today when the car in which he was a passenger left the highway near Delevan, New York. SEEK TO KEEP CONTRACTS

Chicago, Nov. 6 (AP)—M. L. Annenberg's horse racing information services appealed to the courts today to preserve their lifelines—the telephone and telegraph wires. LONGSHOREMEN STRIKE

New York, Nov. 6 (AP)—A strike of 5,000 longshoremen and pier workers that has tied up coastal shipping in and out of New York harbor entered its fourth day today with no signs of settlement. Officials estimated that 70 vessels, including 11 here, were idle in Atlantic and Gulf ports. Unless settled soon, the strike was expected to throw 20,000 maritime employees out of work.

DANDO DROPS COURT APPEAL

Philadelphia, Nov. 6 (AP)—State Senator Joseph P. Dando, Schuylkill county democratic leader, today dropped his appeal to the United States circuit court of appeal from his conviction in federal district court last June on charges of diverting W.P.A. labor to work on his amusement park at Lewellyn, Pa.

Dando already has paid the fine of $2,500 imposed after his conviction, with four employees on W.P.A. projects. The four were given suspended sentences by Judge William H. Kirkpatrick, who said they were "mere tools" in the conspiracy.

Meanwhile Dando still faces another indictment on charges of diverting W.P.A. labor to his sawmill property in Lewellyn. No date has been set for trial of this case.

Formal dismissal of the case was made by Circuit Judges Albert B. Maris, William Clark and Charles A. Jones, upon information signed by Dando's attorneys and United States Attorney J. Cullen Caney, that the appeal should be withdrawn.

Dando and the W.P.A. employees were found guilty by a jury in Judge Kirkpatrick's court last June 12 of conspiring to use W.P.A. labor to remodel and renovate Dando's boxing arena, swimming pool and parts of his Lewellyn amusement park.

EXPECT DECLINE OF RELIEF ROLL

Harrisburg, Nov. 6 (AP)—Further declines in Pennsylvania's unemployment relief rolls were forecast by the Department of Public Assistance today in the wake of a general industrial upturn in the state.

The department observed Sunday in its weekly report that during the week ended October 28 a four-year record was set as private industry took 3,692 cases, or approximately 15,850 persons, from the direct relief burden at a net saving of $138,937 in expenditures for the week.

"A declining volume of applications indicated that a downward movement in general assistance rolls may be expected to continue," the report noted.

"The week's total of 6,320 applications for general assistance represented a drop of 693 from the previous week's total."

An even larger drop was made in the unemployment relief lists by the work projects administration, which accounted for 4,389 cases or 15,285 persons in the week's total decline of 9,014 cases or 33,244 persons.

Howard L. Russell, secretary of Public Assistance, said that since the beginning of September, private industry has taken 67,995 persons from the rolls.

County Cases Drop

For the week ending October 28, there were ten cases closed and five opened in Adams county. Private employment accounted for the closing of six cases. There are 748 persons on relief in the county, necessitating a weekly expenditure of $1,430.70.

Reveals Deaths Of 12 Women

Norwich, Conn., Nov. 6 (AP)—Dr. Chester Waterman, superintendent of the Norwich state hospital, disclosed today that a "little outbreak" of dysentery in the female infirmary had taken a toll of "about 12 lives" during the last three weeks, but now was believed to be under control.

The head of the institution stated that approximately 30 more of the 220 patients, all between the ages of 65 and 100, had been stricken, but appeared to be recovering.

The building has been isolated since the outbreak, Doctor Waterman said, and has been under supervision of the Norwich and Connecticut Health departments. The disease is believed to have been brought in by a new patient.

Pointing out that the patients in the stricken building were "elderly women," Doctor Waterman stated: "Dysentery is common among old people when there are temperature changes."

The institution has been under investigation by a special committee named by Governor Raymond E. Baldwin after State Senator Joseph B. Downes, of Norwich, charged on the floor of the senate that conditions at the hospital "stank to high heaven."

The game had all the importance of ending in a complete tie. The Muhlenberg team was deep in Gettysburg territory and making a serious threat to score when the Muhlenberg back broke through the line and with a beautiful kick by a Muhlenberg player shot into the open with a clear field ahead. Bender never ran faster in his life as he pulled away from a Muhlenberg back while the crowd roared its approval. Johnny Yocum kicked a perfect placement too for the extra point.

Game Hard Fought

From start to finish the game was a grueling affair between the old time rivals and resulted in one of the best played games here in along while.

Three off side penalties against Gettysburg in the first minutes of play put the Bullets in hot water. Stamus returned Yocum's kick off to the Cardinal and Gray 29. Aided by the penalties the visitors moved to Gettysburg 30 where three passes were grounded and Franklin pointed over the goal line. Making the ball on the 0 Stock made his yards at the right side of the line and on two thrusts Shoemaker in and a first down on the 26. A few minutes later Hamilton pointed to the Muhlenberg 44 and Franklin turned the ball to the Bullets 23.

Bullets Miss Score

From that point the Bream men made their first bid for a score. Hamilton's left end and for eight yards and Shoemaker cracked the line for 11 more for a first down on the 42. Hamilton whipped a pass to Stock for another first down on the Muhlenberg 46. Shoemaker got away on one of the long dashes of the day and raced 25 yards to the Muhlenberg 21. A pass Hamilton to Yocum put the ball on the nine. Three plunges produced four yards as the period ended.

On a fake line play which started the second period Bender dropped back and whipped a pass to Yocum who was over the line without an opponent in front but the pass just grazed his finger tips and Muhlenberg took possession on its 26.

Burnin' Run 56

The complexion of the game changed completely on the next play as Burnin' Mullinback went off left tackle and raced 56 yards before being caught. The Bullets took time out and after resuming play took the ball on downs on the 24. The remainder of the second period was fought mostly in mid field.

Early in the third period Muhlenberg threatened. Starting on their own 43 where they received a punt from Hamilton the Muhlenbergs marched to Gettysburg's 28 a pass Franklin to Pridley, a running play, the drive. Again the Bream men were equal to the occasion and forced Muhlenberg to kick the ball going out on the five. Hamilton immediately punted back to Kurova on Gettysburg's 31. Stock who played a great defensive game throughout intercepted a pass on the 15. Hamilton got off a beautiful quick kick that rolled to the end zone 26. Two straight first downs were rolled up by the Julian roached eleven before Plinchbaugh pounced upon Hamman fumble on the Muhlenberg 48.

Presses Intercepted

The Bullets reached Muhlenberg's 30 early in the fourth period but lost the ball when a number of passes were grounded. Hamilton intercepted a pass on the visitors 41 and then Wolfe duplicated by intercepting on his 35. Franklin whipped a pass to Stamus which was good for 22 yards to the Bullets 36. Another pass by the same combination picked up 17 yards and Burnin' Mullinback for a first down on the 25. A line buck made one yard and a pass was grounded. Franklin passed to Wassokovich for eight yards and on the next play Franklin hit a stone wall and Gettysburg over on the 16. After Hamilton punted out to the 39 Muhlenberg took the ball with distinct results when Bender intercepted for his touchdown sprint.

Muhlenberg made 13 first downs two by penalties while the Bullets made six. Gettysburg made good on Philadelphia Nov 6 (AP)—With the football season in its closing stages, the University of Pennsylvania basketball candidates will assemble today with Coach Lon Jourdet. Starting his 15th season with the Red and Blue Journalist is confronted with the task of developing a team from six survivors of last year's squad and a few sophomores. Among the varsity holdovers are Tony Caputo, Thomas McNichol and football captain Harlan Gustafson.

INNOVATOR SPEAKS

Atlantic City N. J. Nov 6 (AP)—Opposition to the open floor for basketball games is voiced by Dr. Charles L. Bossert, veteran who introduced the guards up scoring play. RARE PENALTY

Pittsburgh Nov 6 (AP)—Red Priesel local football official who refereed the game between Notre Dame (14) and Army (0) in New York Saturday said today he called a penalty in the final period that he had never imposed before. When a pass by Harry Stevenson of Notre Dame went astray eligible receivers on both teams collided accidentally. Priesel ruled interference by each man and although the ball was returned to its original position as though it were the usual incomplete pass Notre Dame did not incur the loss of a down. Priesel said a bulletin sent out last week by the Eastern Football Officials association instructed that this interpretation be given and that most of the coaches don't know about it yet.

SAYS GERMANS THREATENED TO SINK THE FLINT

Bergen Nov 6 (AP)—(Via radio)—Capt Joseph A. Gamard describing the capture of the American freighter City of Flint by a German prize crew today said his captors threatened to sink the ship if his men gave them any trouble.

This is a war measure, he quoted the German lieutenant as saying. And whether any of us like it or not I must carry out my orders.

The German prize crew, Captain Gamard said, was armed with pilot's hand grenades, bayonet, a machine gun and other weapons.

The American skipper recounted his experiences in a broadcast to the United States.

After being captured on October 9 by a crew from the German pocket battleship Deutschland, Captain Gamard said the City of Flint proceeded on various dances until October 18 when the Germans painted out all traces of American ownership.

The colors of Denmark were shown on canvas stretch awnings, he said, but the Danish flag was never flown.

This procedure is believed to be in accordance with international law as long as guns are not used. Captain Gamard said.

On October 20 the German prize crew hoisted the German merchant flag. Later on that day we anchored in Tromsø harbor. I maneuvered the ship with the assistance of the Norwegian pilot.

Shortly after the Norwegian naval neutrality patrol officers with customs officers came on board. We were in Tromsø overnight.

At this point he said the crew of the sunken British steamer Soregate rescued by the Germans and placed aboard the City of Flint was turned over to the British consular.

The next evening we proceeded to Murmansk. Gamard went on. During the voyage the German naval flag was hoisted and we entered port in anchorage. I tried continually to get in touch with our ambassador but did not succeed during our six days stay. On the fifth day at 3:40 I was told that the ship was again a German prize and we were to leave it once.

All this time the condition of my officers and crew was good. He praised the high standard of the conduct of the men.

In matter of fact tones Captain Gamard described the trip down the Norwegian coast, which ended at Haugesund where Norwegian officers freed the City of Flint and interned the German prize crew.

Many people have an instinctive dislike for bats. Yet these little mammals are useful to man, for they feed almost entirely on insects. The depth bomb terror of submarines was invented in 1903 by W. T. Unger of Sweden.

Bender's 75-Yard Dash Gives Bullets Upset Win

Seventy-five yard dash — Won by A. Bender, Gettysburg; second, Muhlenberg. Time, about 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Point score, Gettysburg, 7; Muhlenberg, 0.

No readers, they are not the statistics of a track meet, but just a brief summary of a thrilling 75-yard sprint by "Reds" Bender, husky Bullet back, who snared one of Jim Franklin's forward passes with about five minutes to go and streaked down the field to give Gettysburg a 7-0 victory over the favored Muhlenberg eleven here Saturday afternoon before a Homecoming crowd of about 5,000 fans.

The game had all the appearances of ending in a scoreless tie when Bender broke loose on his jaunt. Muhlenberg was deep in Gettysburg territory and making a serious threat to score when the red-head snared the pass, broke through the line and with a beautiful block by a fellow team-mate shot into the open with a clear field ahead. BROWDER WANTS HIS ACCUSER INVESTIGATED

Easton, Nov. 6 (AP)—Earl Browder, communist leader under indictment for using a false name on passport, sought today an investigation of his accuser, Representative J. Parnell Thomas (R-N.Y.), who he said, was "himself sitting in congress x x x under a pseudonym."

Making his first public appearance since his release under bail, Browder called upon Attorney General Frank Murphy, in a speech Sunday night, to investigate Thomas. Browder also advocated socialism for this country and he hailed the Soviet republic as the "world's greatest power for peace."

Browder declared Thomas was "imposed" John Parnell Peeny, and that he had been unable to find any record where the congressman had had his name changed in the courts.

"I understand there is a federal statute that prohibits any person from holding office or drawing salary from the government under any name other than his own," said Browder. "Since Attorney General Murphy has become interested in tracing down pseudonyms, is it too much to expect that he will look into this matter, along with many others that may be brought to his attention in the near future?"

Browder said that the Hoover administration knew all about his using a pseudonym on passports, but decided that it did not merit prosecution, and dropped the matter.

At Allendale, New Jersey, Representative J. Parnell Thomas replied to Browder's charge that he is using a false name by declaring that "everybody" knows he changed his name.

"Mr. Browder can't squeeze out of his own predicament by any smear attack," Thomas said. "He's caught, he knows he is, and it is about time, everywhere the reds or the bund want to attack me, they try to make my change of name a mystery."

Thomas said he took his mother's name through court action in Westchester county, New York, in 1919 after returning from World war service.

"I welcome any investigation by the attorney general on any question," Thomas said.

More Construction Indictments Returned

Pittsburgh, Nov. 6 (AP)—A federal grand jury, investigating Pittsburgh's construction industry in conjunction with a nation-wide anti-trust campaign, returned 36 additional indictments today, supplementing the indictment of 58 individuals, firms and associations last Friday.

Most of the indictments contained additional counts against the electrical contractors named in the first true bills and charged them with making false certificates in connection with bids on public works which were financed with P.W.A. funds.

FARMERS AGAINST LOSSES

Washington, Nov. 6 (AP)—Uncle Sam went into the "red" in his first effort to insure American farmers against crop losses from drought, floods, hail, insects and other natural causes. The Federal Crop Insurance corporation, which last year inaugurated a nationwide program of crop insurance for wheat, reported today that it had paid indemnities in excess of its premium collections from insuring farmers. The corporation reported 136 claims paid in Pennsylvania up to Oct. 24.

LONGSHOREMEN STRIKE

New York, Nov. 6 (AP)—A strike of 5,000 longshoremen and pier workers that has tied up coastal shipping in and out of New York harbor entered its fourth day today with no signs of settlement. Officials estimated that 70 vessels, including 11 here, were idle in Atlantic and Gulf ports. Unless settled soon, the strike was expected to throw 20,000 maritime employees out of work.

DANDO DROPS COURT APPEAL

Philadelphia, Nov. 6 (AP)—State Senator Joseph P. Dando, Schuylkill county democratic leader, today dropped his appeal to the United States circuit court of appeal from his conviction in federal district court last June on charges of diverting W.P.A. labor to work on his amusement park at Lewellyn, Pa.

Dando already has paid the fine of $2,500 imposed after his conviction, with four employees on W.P.A. projects. The four were given suspended sentences by Judge William H. Kirkpatrick, who said they were "mere tools" in the conspiracy.

Meanwhile Dando still faces another indictment on charges of diverting W.P.A. labor to his sawmill property in Lewellyn. No date has been set for trial of this case.

Formal dismissal of the case was made by Circuit Judges Albert B. Maris, William Clark and Charles A. Jones, upon information signed by Dando's attorneys and United States Attorney J. Cullen Caney, that the appeal should be withdrawn.

Dando and the W.P.A. employees were found guilty by a jury in Judge Kirkpatrick's court last June 12 of conspiring to use W.P.A. labor to remodel and renovate Dando's boxing arena, swimming pool and parts of his Lewellyn amusement park.

EXPECT DECLINE OF RELIEF ROLL

Harrisburg, Nov. 6 (AP)—Further declines in Pennsylvania's unemployment relief rolls were forecast by the Department of Public Assistance today in the wake of a general industrial upturn in the state.

The department observed Sunday in its weekly report that during the week ended October 28 a four-year record was set as private industry took 3,692 cases, or approximately 15,850 persons, from the direct relief burden at a net saving of $138,937 in expenditures for the week.

"A declining volume of applications indicated that a downward movement in general assistance rolls may be expected to continue," the report noted.

The week's total of 6,320 applications for general assistance represented a drop of 693 from the previous week's total.

An even larger dent was made in the unemployment relief lists by the work projects administration, which accounted for 4,389 cases or 15,285 persons in the week's total decline of 9,014 cases or 33,244 persons.

Howard L. Russell, secretary of Public Assistance, said that since the beginning of September, private industry has taken 67,995 persons from the rolls.

County Cases Drop

For the week ending October 28, there were ten cases closed and five opened in Adams county. Private employment accounted for the closing of six cases. There are 748 persons on relief in the county, necessitating a weekly expenditure of $14,930.70.

Reveals Deaths Of 12 Women
Norwich, Conn., Nov. 6 (AP)—Dr. Chester Waterman, superintendent of the Norwich state hospital, disclosed today that a "little outbreak" of dysentery in the female infirmary had taken a toll of "about 12 lives" during the last three weeks, but now was believed to be under control.

The head of the institution stated that approximately 30 more of the 220 patients, all between the ages of 65 and 100, had been stricken, but appeared to be recovering.

The building has been isolated since the outbreak, Doctor Waterman said, and has been under supervision of the Norwich and Connecticut Health departments. The disease is believed to have been brought in by a new patient.

Pointing out that the patients in the stricken building were "elderly women," Doctor Waterman stated: "Dysentery is common among old people when there are temperature changes."

The institution has been under investigation by a special committee named by Governor Raymond E. Baldwin after State Senator Joseph B. Downes, of Norwich, charged on the floor of the senate that conditions at the hospital "stunk to high heaven."

Fifty per cent of American home exteriors are painted white, less than one per cent red or blue.

An Evening Thought

When you have discovered a stain in yourself, you eagerly seek for and gladly find stains in others.—Auerbach.

Out of the Past

Happening of days gone by as chronicled in The Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times the files reveal.

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO

We mentioned last week the escape from our prison of a black man, named Butler, confined on a charge of arson. He was retaken on the same day, about 7 or 8 miles from Gettysburg, and has been safely re-logged in prison.

Married. On the 24th ult., by the Rev. Mr. Furlong, Capt. James Boyd, of Cumberland township, to Miss Margaret McIlwaine, daughter of Mr. Moses McIlwaine, of Mountpleasant township.

Medical Department of Pennsylvania College.—We learn, with great satisfaction that already above 50 students have been entered in the Medical Department of Pennsylvania College, at Philadelphia; and it is thought the number will reach 100.

The winter session of the college itself, at this place, has opened with an increased number of students.

Distressing Accident. It is our painful duty to record the death of a very promising young man, Mr. Wm. McCreary, of Freedom township, aged about 18 or 19 years of age. He was in Emmitsburg on Tuesday morning last, driving his father's team; when by a sudden turn of the lead horse, the saddle horse upon which he was, was struck by the tongue of the wagon, and fell with him. Before he could extricate himself, he was so much trampled and bruised, as to occasion his death in three hours after!

Died. On the 5th ult., in Darke county, Ohio, Mr. Jacob Radeheld, formerly of Germany township, Adams county, in the 62d year of his age.

On the 22d ult., Mr. Jacob Eyster, of Menallen township, aged 50 years.

On Monday last in Germany township, Mrs. Aney Marsh, consort of Bernabas Marsh, aged 46 years.

On the 26th ult., Mr. Christian Heible, of Mountjoy township, in the 78th year of his age.

The daughter of the Hon. Daniel Webster was married at St. George's, Hanover Square, London, on the 24th of September, to Mr. Appleton, of Boston. The marriage was a fashionable one, and was attended by the American Minister, and many persons of distinction.

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Abraham Krise, Esq., entered upon his duties as County Commissioner on Saturday. Ephraim Myers, Esq., retired from the Board. Jacob Eppelman, Esq., is now President. The Board consists of Messrs. Eppelman, March and Krise. J. M. Walter, Esq., has been re-appointed clerk, and E. B. Buehler, Esq., Counsel.

Married. On the 27th ult., at the residence of Mrs. Waybright Ziegler, by the Rev. Dr. Baugher, Mr. Charles W. Baker to Miss Louisa M. Martin, all of this place.

On the 25th ult., in the Petersburg Presbyterian church, by the Rev. John O. Proctor, Mr. Philip A. Myers, New Oxford, to Miss Harriet Louisa Wierman, daughter of the Hon. Isaac E. Wierman, of Adams county, Pennsylvania.

On the 27th ult., by Rev. Jacob Ziegler, Mr. Michael W. Dietrick, to Mrs. Catharine Pennsly, both of Tyrone township.

On the 20th ult., by Rev. J. M. Tersel Mr. Peter Kready, of Liberty township, to Miss Martha J. Heagy, of Freedom township.

Bold Attempt to Deceive Gen. Koontz of His Election. The Return Judges met on Friday to receive and count the Return of Soldiers' Votes. These returns gave Koontz 292—Coffroth 115. During the day it was whispered that the Democratic Judges had held a caucus at the Globe Hotel, with three of our young Democratic lawyers, and determined to exclude a portion of the soldier vote. But nobody seemed disposed to credit the rumor. On Friday evening the town was much excited by the announcement that the Democratic Judges had actually rejected eight Returns, which had given Koontz 108 majority. As the Telegraph from Harrisburg had announced Koontz's majority in the district to be only 72, this exclusion of the soldier vote, if recognized by the Governor, would of course give the Commission to Coffroth—a defeated candidate. We learn that the Union judges protested against the outrage—refused to sign the returns as not setting forth the full vote of the county—and drew up a calm, dignified protest, which was forwarded to the Secretary of the Commonwealth.

The Meeting On Saturday Night: As announced Vice President Hamlin arrived in Gettysburg, on Saturday evening, having been met at Cashtown, New Salem, and other points by a large and handsome procession.

In the evening the court-house was filled to overflowing. We have never seen so great a crowd packed into it. The meeting was organized by the election of the following officers: President—Hon. James Wilson.

Vice Presidents—Josiah Benner, J. J. Kerr, Capt. John Horner, Andrew Heintzelman, Henry Lott, Hon. Joel B. Danner, David Deatrick, Wm. S. Hamilton, John Cress, Philip Beamer, John Chamberlain, Henry Myers, John Mickle, Joseph Barker, Samuel Meals, John Socks, Hugh McIlhenny.

Secretaries—Franklin Gardner, Ephraim Myers, Adam C. Musselman, Theo. C. Norris, Samuel Moritz, Samuel Young, J. Sheads, Wm. A. Grayson, Andrew W. Flemming. Vice President Hamlin was introduced by R. G. McCreary, Esq., chairman of the Borough Club, and delivered a powerful speech, about two hours long, of the most convincing character.

He was followed by Hon. Edward McPherson, upon the rejection of the Army Returns.

CRANKMIRE ON THE YANKS

The Yanks are too good we'd that evening agreed.

Their break-up at once both the major leagues need.

They possess too much skill; too much power; too much speed.

And old Crankmire replied with a toss of his head

When he'd made up his mind our last word had been said:

"I'd build the Yanks stronger and better instead.

"It's a pretty sad cry and repeat it none should,

Lest by eager-eared youth it be misunderstood

That we've come to the day when our best is too good.

"Break up our best! What a soul-sickening plea!

The Yanks are too good for our weak rivalry;

Destroy what is best and let's middle-class be!

"Let's build up the weak and not tear down the strong!

Let the Yanks if they can keep on leading the throng

'Till a team that can better their best comes along."

JURORS READ THE FUNNIES

Roanoke, Va. (AP).—A juror's love for the funnies almost broke up an important criminal trial here.

Defense Attorney S. R. Price asked Judge Benjamin Haden to declare a mistrial because the juror took a copy of a Roanoke paper, containing testimony the juror had not been allowed to hear, into the jury room.

The judge agreed that reading the story might prejudice the jurors, but suggested that perhaps they hadn't read that part of the paper.

Sure enough, one of the jurors told the judge he took the paper in just to let a colleague keep up with the doings of a comic strip character. The trial went on.

MUSICAL GHOST IS FOUND OUT

Hopkinsville, Ky. (AP).—Hopkinsville police have marked down the mystery of the "haunted music machine" in a local tavern as solved—by the usual electrical short circuit.

Three times within two weeks the nickel music box began playing in the middle of the night. Apparently no one was in the building and no nickel in the slot.

Leland Atkinson, the owner, who lives in an adjoining building, asked the aid of police after hearing the music late at night in the belief some one was robbing the tavern.

THE SPARK IN THE HEART

IT IS essential that there be ever burning within our heart one vital spark — to keep it warm, to stimulate the mind, and re-assure us when the cold winds of chance or misfortune sweep down upon us.

Like the small burning pilot-light in our furnaces, there it is awaiting the time to light the greater flames that remain latent, that are needed to keep our lives normal in warmth.

Just so long as the spark in your heart remains ever ready to light up with faith and enthusiasm the tasks that lie before you, you need have no fear. The spark in your heart is the light of your hope.

There are times, however, when this spark itself, either burns too low to ignite the hope in our heart, or else goes out completely. Then life becomes dark indeed and the dread of despair droops its shadows all about. Then it is that we need some one, or some thing, to put life to the spark. It may be no more than a kind word, a grip of the hand, a pat on the back, a smile of confidence from a friend — or it may be a sudden realization of God in the world, who doesn't believe in letting his creatures down.

It is natural for people to get low, to stumble in the dark, and to get lost in such a big and mysterious world, but it isn't natural for them to stay that way! That's what the spark in the heart is for — to bring them back to life and to themselves.

There is always something left on which to build anew — no matter how we may have wasted our time and substance. Not to want to rebuild is tragedy and defeat. The story of the Prodigal Son in the Bible is a very human story, universal in the lesson that it suggests. There was still a spark of decency and hope in that boy's heart. He got to thinking of his home and of the father whom he loved. Then he lit that spark until it became a flame of desire to return home. "I will arise," he said, "and go to my father." And he did.

These talks have now been written for over 20 years with the one purpose behind them, brief and unpretentious as they are, to help keep the spark of hope in people's hearts burning — or to relight it where extinguished.

THE CREEPING MAN

By Frances Shelley Wees

YESTERDAY: Michael forces Higgins to dig up a box he has hidden in the garden. It contains Murchison's watch and chain which Higgins found on the path the morning after Murchison disappeared.

Chapter 26

BONE FOR A DOG

"I didn't know as 'ow 'e was dead. But there was a bit o' bloody paper on the ground beside the watch. I got to thinkin' about it, and it looked funny. I thought as 'ow I'd wait and see. And I did, and s'welp me that's all I know about it."

"What happened to the bloody paper?"

"When I thought about it, and went back to get it, it was gone."

"When was that?"

"The same morning. About an hour after I found the watch."

"Who had been along the path during that hour?"

"Everybody. They goes to the University that way."

"The path goes to the river?"

"There's that branch path goes to the University."

"So, you found the watch before you come to the branch in the path?"

"Yes."

"And you've kept it hidden ever since? Haven't told the police?"

"I thought there'd be a reward if I kept quiet long enough."

"There will, Higgins, there will. I'm sure of it."

"I don't know nothink else. I found the watch, and I kept it, and I didn't rightly know what to do with it, so I buried it in the garden, and then when you come around with all yer questions I thought as 'ow likely you'd find it, so I piled the rocks on the ground, like, and then today them women was foolin' around the rocks and actin' funny, and I thought I better dig it up. S'welp me, that's all."

"What women?"

"Mrs. Forrester and that Church girl."

"Oh, Miss Temple? Well, that's close enough. Now, who's your owl, Higgins?"

Higgins was bolder. "I don't know nothink about owls," he said flatly.

"No? Well, perhaps not. You may be telling the truth. We'll let it pass. I won't keep you any longer. I suppose you know that I could put you in prison for what you know?"

Higgins groaned. "I know it," he said despairingly.

"Well, remember it. You may go—but I'll be sending for you one of these days, Higgins. And you might tell your owl friend he'd better study hooling. He goes flat."

Michael went through the dark house, after the man had gone, in search of Tuck and Bunny. He found them in the little room at the head of the stairs that was Tuck's particular delight. It was fitted up with a little desk and a telephone, and was bright with chintz, and from it she directed the affairs of her household, Charlotte Jean entering into the game with solemn enjoyment. Tuck was sitting at the desk when he went in, and Bunny curled lazily on the couch, listening, as usual, to Tuck.

"Where've you been all these hours?" Tuck demanded, more as a matter of form than anything else, for she did not wait for an answer. She went on—"Michael, we've got a marvelous idea!"

"What, another?" He kissed her on the tip of the nose, and sat down in the chair beside her desk.

"Umhm. Really. We're going to have a tea party, on Sunday, in the garden, and invite all the suspects, and their friends; and we're going to introduce pertinent subjects of conversation quite pointedly, and listen, and watch. It will be interesting to see what happens."

"Bright idea," said Michael approvingly. "Now, I might have thought of that. My motto always is 'When in doubt, lead triumphs.'"

Late Supper

Michael lay flat on his back in the sun porch swing-hammock, his coax Gordon down from dangerous heights."

"Does Agamemnon enjoy barking in his own garden? I shouldn't think he'd stand for it."

Tuck laughed. "They've signed a sort of armed neutrality pact, he and Fred," she explained. "If Fred comes within a yard of Agamemnon he stands in danger of losing a couple of eyes; otherwise Agamemnon stalks about majestically with his tail up and never looks at him."

There was a silence. "Oh dear," said Michael at length.

"Michael, if you ask where dinner is, I shall murder you. I am fully aware that it's late. It isn't our fault. It's the butcher boy."

"Late?"

"Oh, no. He came to the other houses at the usual time. But he didn't have our meat. He was sure he had, but he hadn't. He had to go back after it, and he just this minute got here. Charlotte Jean went to the gate and got it. She talked to him vigorously. I could see her."

"It won't be long now," Michael murmured contentedly.

"Not long. Michael..." she turned to him suddenly. "Do you think they might be in code? Really?"

"I sincerely hope not," Michael murmured. "I'm starving."

"Idiot! The letters."

"Oh, dear," Michael sighed again.

"There," said Tuck suddenly. "She's putting it in the pan. She just threw the bone to Fred."

"Thank heaven," Michael said.

"I don't think Agamemnon will appreciate that," Tuck said again.

"He's sitting on the fence with an expression of utter disgust on his face."

A little later there arose on the still air a low, long moaning. Gordon's voice came from the heights of the pole. "Hey you, Fred, stop that yowling!" But Fred did not stop. He moaned again, his doggy voice rising to a frenzied squeal on the last note.

Michael stood up suddenly. "What's he moaning about?" he asked sharply.

"I don't know," Tuck replied. "Do you suppose he's got a bit of bone caught in his throat? It sounds as if he were in pain."

"He's Dead?"

Michael was through the door in a second, and out with the dog. Gordon knelt by Fred and looked up at Michael anxiously. "He just kind of laid down," he said. "It looks like he's got kind of a pain, maybe."

Fred was lying on the ground. He stopped moaning and looked up at Gordon pleadingly. Gordon patted his head. "There, there, old kid," he said. "What's the matter with you? Eat too fast?"

Fred's head went down on the ground. His eyes were still on Gordon's face. His stumpy tail wagged once, feebly, as if to answer his master once more.

Once more, but never again. "My God!" said Michael softly.

"Fred! Fred!" Gordon called, terrible fear in his tone.

The dog's eyes were open and staring. Michael put his hand over the doggy heart.

"I'm afraid... he's a pretty sick dog, Gordon," he said slowly. "I think we'd better send for the vet."

"The vet?" Gordon looked up at Michael. He looked back at the dog. He looked again at Michael with shrewdness and fear mingled.

"He's... he's... dead already, isn't he?" he asked. His blue eyes well full of pain.

"I'm afraid he is," Michael said, refusing to meet those eyes. "I'll carry him for you, old chap."

"No. He's my dog. I'll carry him." And Gordon bent, hiding the lower lip firmly caught between his teeth, and picked up the dog. Michael went as far as the gate, and then came rushing back to the kitchen door. His face was as white as paper and his eyes blazed. "Give me that meat," he said to the startled maid.

"Every bit of it, Charlotte Jean. You haven't tasted it, have you?"

"Why, no. Mr. Forrester. That I haven't, sir. Is something..."

"Wrap it up in the paper it came in," he commanded sharply. "Take it out of that pan, and don't touch it. Do you understand that?"

"Yes... why yes..."

He was gone, to the yard again. Tuck was standing where Fred had died. Her face was strange, frozen. At her feet lay the bone, half eaten, which had fallen from Fred's mouth. Michael slipped the piece of paper in his hand underneath it, and wrapped it carefully. He turned to her. "Do you want to come to town with me to eat?" he said brusquely. "There's no meat here for dinner."

"Michael... was that meat... is it..."

"I don't know. You saw what happened to the dog. I'm going to take it to Headquarters, to the analyst, immediately. Do you want to come? I wish you would."

"I'll get Bunny."

It was three very silent young people who came back to the house on the campus about half past eight that night. They had had dinner at the Cat and Fiddle after Michael had been in to Headquarters with the package of meat; the analyst, Dr. Jethro, had promised to start at it immediately sometime before morning. So they were prepared to sit up until the telephone call came.

Snow Cruiser Gets

Two New Motors

Erie, Pa., Nov. 6 (AP).—The adventuresome journey of Rear Admiral Richard C. Byrd's snow cruiser, laid up here for week-end repairs, was further delayed today for installation of an electric brake.

Refinements that were originally planned to be made aboard ship after the cruiser reaches Boston will also be done here, setting the time of departure tentatively back to late Tuesday. It will head into New York state via route 5.

The lumbering vehicle, looking like a fantastic battle wagon of the future, came into town Saturday after a troubling trip across Ohio. One object of the stop here was to install two new motors to replace those damaged when the cruiser slipped off a bridge near Lima, Ohio. Oil line breaks also slowed the trek through Ohio.

Excited crowds cheered the cruiser and Mayor Charles R. Barber delivered an address of welcome to the crew. Mr. and Mrs. Clyde L. Siple, parents of Paul Siple, who as a Boy Scout went on Byrd's first trip of exploration to the Antarctic 11 years ago, rode through the city on the giant machine. Siple, now a doctor of geography, will make the forthcoming trip to the Antarctic with Byrd.

The cruiser went to the Erie works of the General Electric company, where the hurriedly-assembled motors were put in. A 16-foot fence and a squad of state motor police guarded it over the week-end.

Vaccination Foe Seeks Release

Mercer, Pa., Nov. 6 (AP).—Earl Allison, South Pymatuning township foe of compulsory vaccination, asked Mercer county court today to free him of a 25-day jail sentence, claiming his constitutional rights had been violated.

Allison, 31, was sent to jail in lieu of paying fines for violating the school attendance law. He has refused to have his 9-year-old son, Earl, Jr., vaccinated in accordance with the school regulations.

Allison's attorney, John Madden, retained by the Pittsburgh Health club, filed a habeas corpus petition seeking his release. The petition alleges a violation of the 14th amendment to the Constitution in Allison's being sent to jail.

Madden said he would take the case to the United States Supreme court, if necessary, to seek the man's release.

PRISON BREAK BY 6 FOILED; GUARD KILLED

Jackson, Mich., Nov. 6 (AP)—A melodramatic Sunday afternoon prison break, foiled only after a guard was killed and a woman visitor wounded by stray shot, brought a state investigation today at Southern Michigan penitentiary.

In 50 minutes packed with all the elements of a movie thriller, six convicts gained access to the prison roof and in the action that followed a guard was shot dead, a prison yard football game hurriedly called off, and all six felons captured.

Presumably timing their well-engineered plot to coincide with the football game—a part of the prison's Sabbath recreation program—the six overpowered two guards and a prison officer in a stealthy maneuver to flee over the walls.

By the time five had clambered down a crude ladder of rope and pipe, the alarm was sounded and the prison exercise lot, where 3,000 convicts watched the game, had been ordered cleared.

Three of the fleeing felons dashed into a guard's car. Chief Guard Inspector Fred Boucher, 54, tried to halt them, and was killed by a shotgun blast.

A second shot went wild, and Mrs. Dorothy Roberts, of Kalamazoo, visitor at the prison, was struck in the face by a pellet. She was only slightly hurt.

Prison officials said the shotgun was that taken from Russell Day, roof tower guard whom the six overpowered after gaining the roof by tricking him into believing his relief guard was on hand.

The three sped off, in Day's car leaving their fellow-conspirators behind. A chase of a mile and a half ended with their surrender after Deputy Warden Glenn Carpenter's revolver shot tore open a tire on the fugitive's machine.

Meanwhile, guards captured the other three near the prison wall.

Warden Harry Jackson suspended Day, "pending investigation," and all six of the convicts were placed in "detention cells."

COAST STORM BRINGS SNOW, RAIN TO STATE

(By the Associated Press) A 65-mile-an-hour gale that lashed eastern seaboard states with sleet, heavy rains and snow subsided today, leaving in its wake much inland and waterfront property damage.

The storm, traveling north from Cape Hatteras, battered the coastline Sunday night with a fury reminiscent of the New England hurricane of September, 1938.

The disturbance was described as a "tropical cyclone" by Professor Charles F. Brooks of Harvard's Blue Hill observatory.

Clearing skies were forecast for most of the area, but temperatures tumbling to sub-freezing levels made highway traffic perilous. Snow plows were called out to clear highways in Vermont.

North and central Pennsylvania counties experienced snow ranging in depth from three to nine inches. The mercury read 32 in Bedford county where six inches of snow fell.

The Altoona weather observer reported the five-inch fall in Blair county was the heaviest for early November in 56 years. Snow in Fayette county snapped communication lines.

For Philadelphians, it was a dismal day as gusts of rain whipped the city. Pittsburgh got a light sprinkling of snow and the thermometer skidded to 26 degrees.

Cinder trucks deployed on icy highways and state highway department officials warned motorists to exert caution. Snow plows cleared the Lincoln and William Penn highways in the Allegheny mountains of Westmoreland county.

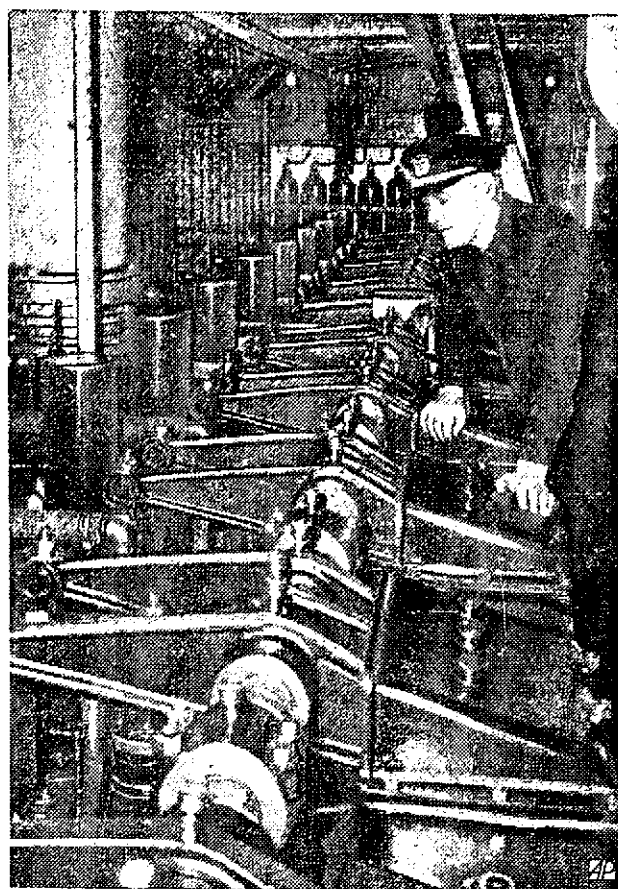

Rain that congealed into ice on windshields provided a hazard to motorists in the Pocones.

Several small ocean vessels were pounded to pieces and coast guardsmen answered distress calls from pleasure craft from New Jersey to Boston.

Four exhausted men were rescued from a 35-foot disabled motorboat off New Bedford, Massachusetts, by a coast guard power boat attracted by makeshift flares of gasoline-saturated rags.

FARMER DIES OF BURNS
Lewisburg, Pa., Nov. 6 (AP)—Burns proved fatal Sunday for a 69-year-old farmer who drank gasoline in mistake for wine and then spit it out on a hot stove. Mrs. Austin Burd said her husband picked up the wrong jug. Flames leaped up as he spit out the gasoline, igniting his clothing.

RE-NAMED COMMISSIONERS
Lewisburg, Pa., Nov. 6 (AP)—W. B. Anstine, of York, and John R. Lashley, of Waynesboro, have been re-appointed conciliation commissioners by the federal court here to handle farm bankruptcy proceedings in York and Franklin counties, respectively. Their terms will run one year from November 28.

POWER FOR 'NORTH STAR'—There's a lot of power here, thinks Chief Engineer Herman Sanwick of the motor-ship "North Star" as he examines the valve assembly of the longest Diesel engine in any ship in the U. S. It is 35 feet long, weighs 110 tons, has 1,525 horsepower and will push the "North Star" at 12 knots when ship leaves Boston with Byrd party.

FOR A NARROW LOT

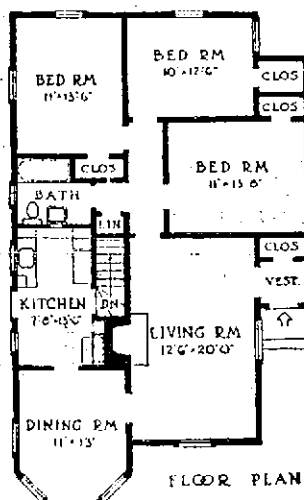

THIS house has been efficiently planned for construction on a narrow lot.

Three bedrooms with ample closet space are provided while the three "bay" exposure in the dining room assures ample sunlight at all times. The living room is unusually large and has the added attraction of an open fireplace.

This home eliminates all stair climbing and should appeal particularly to those preferring all rooms on one floor.

Another unusual feature of this home is the provision of a third bedroom. The average house suited to a narrow city lot seldom contains more than two.

The house appears in the November issue of HOME Magazine, published at 1337 Connecticut Avenue, Washington, D. C.

Hints for Home Owners

Game Equipment Closet

A built-in cabinet in which sports and game equipment can be stored contributes to orderliness in a home. An adequate games closet, installation of which may be financed with funds obtainable from qualified lending institutions under FHA's modernization credit plan, should have a number of shelves as well as a bin or hamper. In these can be stored seasonal sports equipment, such as ice skates, tennis racquets, golf paraphernalia, backgammon boards, and other articles associated with sport.

Fireplace Damper

Frequently overlooked by home builders, a fireplace damper is equally important as the fireplace itself. In addition to being a regulatory device, a fireplace damper prevents heat from escaping up the chimney when the fireplace is not in use. There is considerable variation in the types of dampers available.

Light For Entrance

A home owner will be repaid many times over in convenience and safety in installing a front-door or entrance light. Such an entrance light, in addition to making unnecessary groping in the dark for door or key-hole, can provide an attractive feature. Such lights can be controlled from the inside of a house.

DARK KITCHENS MAKE COOKING DIFFICULT JOB

There is nothing so unsatisfactory as a dark kitchen.

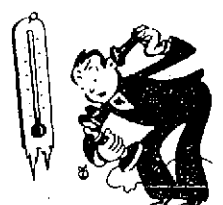

This is the echo of hundreds of housewives who have to spend many hours in poorly lighted kitchens each day. Not only is it depressing, they say, but cooking and dish-washing are made more difficult. An extra window makes the room

NEAT TRICK

Pittsburgh, Nov. 6 (AP)—Fire Chief Nick Phelan has converted a Federal Bureau of Investigation trick into a neat method of catching false fire alarm pullers "red-handed." He puts a little basic Fuchsin, which G-men use on "planted" money and other objects, on the hook of the fire alarm box. On contact with the moisture of the hand, the Fuchsin turns into a vivid dye, blue or red, which can be washed off only with great difficulty. Phelan says his system is a big help in trapping false alarm pullers.

HARVEST REFORM

Pittsburgh, Nov. 6 (AP)—Mayor Cornelius D. PRISON BREAK BY 6 FOILED; GUARD KILLED

Jackson, Mich., Nov. 6 (AP)—A melodramatic Sunday afternoon prison break, foiled only after a guard was killed and a woman visitor wounded by stray shot, brought a state investigation today at Southern Michigan penitentiary.

In 50 minutes packed with all the elements of a movie thriller, six convicts gained access to the prison roof and in the action that followed a guard was shot dead, a prison yard football game hurriedly called off, and all six felons captured.

Presumably timing their well-engineered plot to coincide with the football game—a part of the prison's Sabbath recreation program—the six overpowered two guards and a prison officer in a stealthy maneuver to flee over the walls.

By the time five had clambered down a crude ladder of rope and pipe, the alarm was sounded and the prison exercise lot, where 3,000 convicts watched the game, had been ordered cleared.

Three of the fleeing felons dashed into a guard's car. Chief Guard Inspector Fred Boucher, 54, tried to halt them, and was killed by a shotgun blast.

A second shot went wild, and Mrs. Dorothy Roberts, of Kalamazoo, visitor at the prison, was struck in the face by a pellet. She was only slightly hurt.

Prison officials said the shotgun was taken from Russell Day, roof tower guard whom the six overpowered after gaining the roof by tricking him into believing his relief guard was on hand.

The three sped off, in Day's car leaving their fellow-conspirators behind. A chase of a mile and a half ended with their surrender after Deputy Warden Glenn Carpenter's revolver shot tore open a tire on the fugitive's machine.

Meanwhile, guards captured the other three near the prison wall.

Warden Harry Jackson suspended Day, "pending investigation," and all six of the convicts were placed in "detention cells."

COAST STORM BRINGS SNOW, RAIN TO STATE

(By the Associated Press) A 65-mile-an-hour gale that lashed eastern seaboard states with sleet, heavy rains and snow subsided today, leaving in its wake much inland and waterfront property damage.

The storm, traveling north from Cape Hatteras, battered the coastline Sunday night with a fury reminiscent of the New England hurricane of September, 1938.

The disturbance was described as a "tropical cyclone" by Professor Charles F. Brooks of Harvard's Blue Hill observatory.

Clearing skies were forecast for most of the area, but temperatures tumbling to sub-freezing levels made highway traffic perilous. Snow plows were called out to clear highways in Vermont.

North and central Pennsylvania counties experienced snow ranging in depth from three to nine inches. The mercury read 32 in Bedford county where six inches of snow fell.

The Altoona weather observer reported the five-inch fall in Blair county was the heaviest for early November in 56 years. Snow in Fayette county snapped communication lines.

For Philadelphians, it was a dismal day as gusts of rain whirled the city. Pittsburgh got a light sprinkling of snow and the thermometer skidded to 26 degrees.

Cinder trucks deployed on icy highways and state Highway department officials warned motorists to exert caution. Snow plows cleared the Lincoln and William Penn highways in the Allegheny mountains of Westmoreland county.

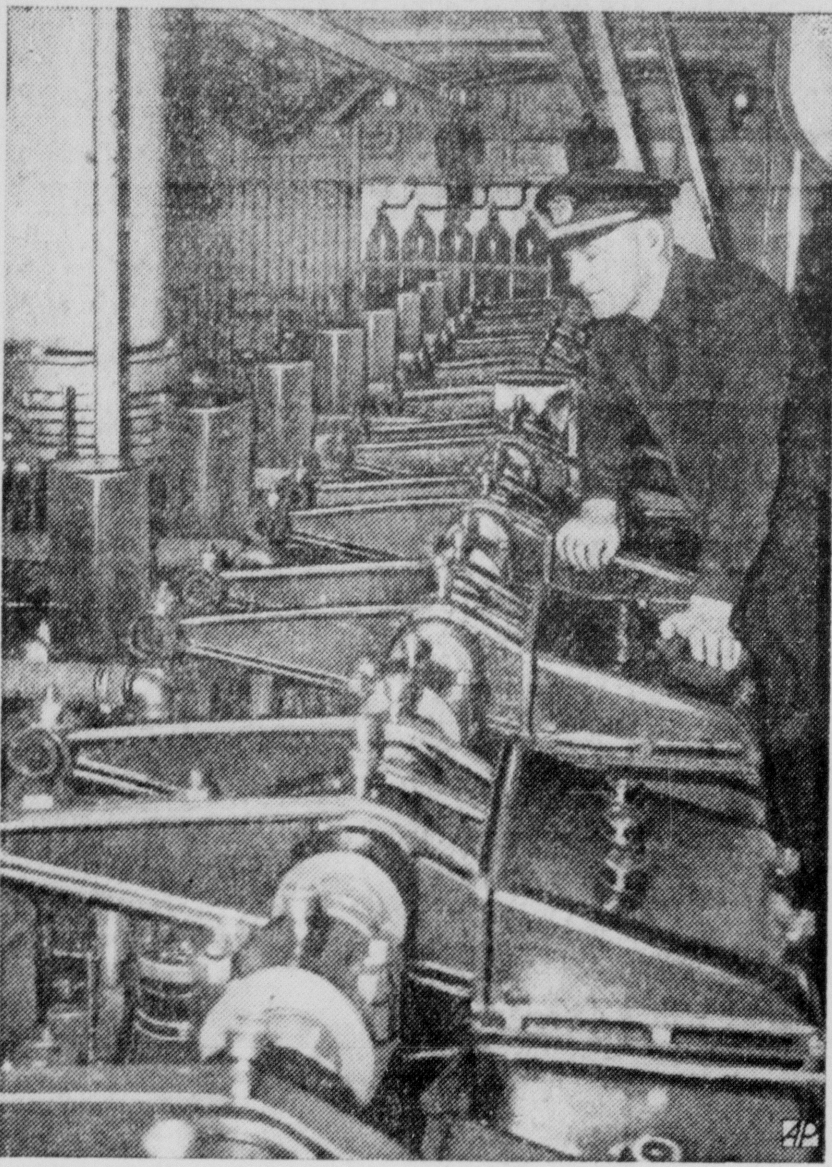

Rain that congealed into ice on windshields provided a hazard to motorists in the Poconos.

Several small ocean vessels were pounded to pieces and coast guardsmen answered distress calls from pleasure craft from New Jersey to Boston.

Four exhausted men were rescued from a 35-foot disabled motorboat off New Bedford, Massachusetts, by a coast guard power boat attracted by makeshift flares of gasoline-saturated rags.

FARMER DIES OF BURNS
Lewisburg, Pa., Nov. 6 (AP)—Burns proved fatal Sunday for a 69-year-old farmer who drank gasoline in mistake for wine and then spit it out on a hot stove. Mrs. Austin Burd said her husband picked up as he spit out the gasoline, igniting his clothing.

RE-NAMED COMMISSIONERS
Lewisburg, Pa., Nov. 6 (AP)—W. B. Anstine, of York, and John R. Lashley, of Waynesboro, have been re-appointed conciliation commissioners by the federal court here to handle farm bankruptcy proceedings in York and Franklin counties, respectively. Their terms will run one year from November 28.

POWER FOR 'NORTH STAR'—There's a lot of power here, thinks Chief Engineer Herman Sanwick of the motorship "North Star" as he examines the valve assembly of the longest Diesel engine in any ship in the U. S. It is 35 feet long, weighs 110 tons, has 1,525 horsepower and will push the "North Star" at 12 knots when ship leaves Boston with Byrd party.

NOT HAVING ANY FUN—When Betsy's cup of sorrow is full, this baby orang-utan at St. Louis zoo looks like this.

IT'S A LOT OF TROUBLE TO GET REFERENCES
Thomasville, N. C. (AP)—The state employment service needed an engineer. An unemployed worker applied. He was asked to get two references. He wrote for them. Each recipient not only gave him a reference, but offered him a better job. He accepted one.

FOR A NARROW LOT

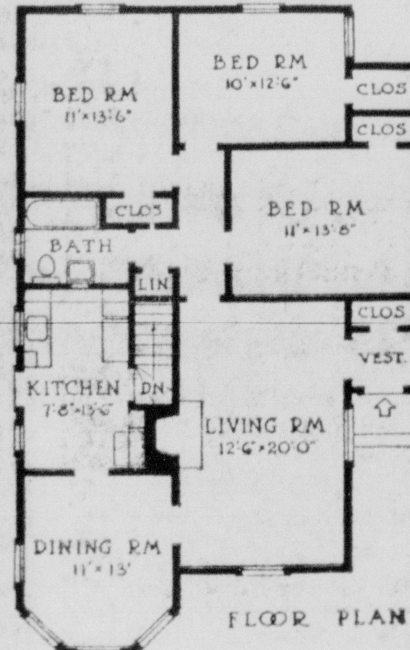

THIS house has been efficiently planned for construction on a narrow lot.

Three bedrooms with ample closet space are provided while the three "bay" exposure in the dining room assures ample sunlight at all times. The living room is unusually large and has the added attraction of an open fireplace.

This home eliminates all stair climbing and should appeal particularly to those preferring all rooms on one floor.

Another unusual feature of this home is the provision of a third bedroom. The average house suited to a narrow city lot seldom contains more than two.

The house appears in the November issue of HOME Magazine, published at 1337 Connecticut Avenue, Washington, D. C.

Hints for Home Owners

Game Equipment Closet

A built-in cabinet in which sports and game equipment can be stored contributes to orderliness in a home. An adequate games closet, installation of which may be financed with funds obtainable from qualified lending institutions under FHA's modernization credit plan, should have a number of shelves as well as a bin or hamper. In these can be stored seasonal sports equipment, such as ice skates, tennis racquets, golf paraphernalia, backgammon boards, and other articles associated with sport.

Fireplace Damper

Frequently overlooked by home builders, a fireplace damper is equally important as the fireplace itself. In addition to being a regulatory device, a fireplace damper prevents heat from escaping up the chimney when the fireplace is not in use. There is considerable variation in the types of dampers available.

Light For Entrance

A home owner will be repaid many times over in convenience and safety in installing a front-door or entrance light. Such an entrance light, in addition to making unnecessary grapping in the dark for door or key-hole, can provide an attractive feature. Such lights can be controlled from the inside of a house.

DARK KITCHENS

MAKE COOKING DIFFICULT JOB

There is nothing so unsatisfactory as a dark kitchen.

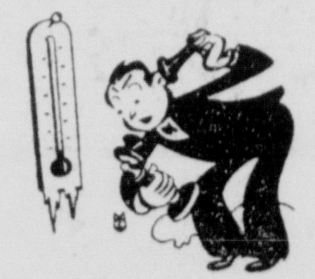

This is the echo of hundreds of housewives who have to spend many hours in poorly lighted kitchens each day. Not only is it depressing, they say, but cooking and dishwashing are made more difficult.

NEAT TRICK

Pittsburgh, Nov. 6 (AP)—Fire Chief Nick Phelan has converted a Federal Bureau of Investigation trick into a neat method of catching false fire alarm pullers "red-handed." He puts a little basic Fuchsin, which G-men use on "planted" money and other objects, on the hook of the fire alarm box. On contact with the moisture of the hand, the Fuchsin turns into a vivid dye, blue or red, which can be washed off only with great difficulty. Phelan says his system is a big help in trapping false alarm pullers.

HARVEST REFORM

Pittsburgh, Nov. 6 (AP)—Mayor Cornelius D. Scully in a letter to the Allegheny county prison board today advocated sending to a "rehabilitation farm"—instead of to jail—the hundreds of prisoners found guilty of minor law violations, such as drunkenness. They would yield harvest returns that would reduce the annual prison food bill, he pointed out.

LAST SHOT

Connellsville, Pa., Nov. 6 (AP)—J. Donald Porter, 61-year-old real estate man, stepped up to the ball and made one drive on the golf course of Pleasant Valley country club Sunday—then fell dead.

NORWAY REJECTS PROTEST OVER CITY OF FLINT

Oslø, Norway, Nov. 6 (AP)—Her freedom assured by Norway's rejection of German protests, the United States freighter City of Flint idled at anchor today awaiting a decision where her strange voyage would take her next.

It was apparent that Norwegian officials, anxious over the possibility that Germany might make an issue over the case, would like to see the ship outside Norwegian waters bound for anywhere.

Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, United States minister to Norway, conferred at Bergen today with the United States consul there, Maurice P. Dunlap, and Captain Joseph A. Gahndar, master of the City of Flint.

One rumor was that the ship's freight had been sold at Bergen. The possibility was mentioned in shipping circles that the freighter's cargo of tractors, leather, fruit, wax and other articles might be transferred to a British ship and taken to England. There are several British merchantmen in the Bergen harbor.

The freighter's freedom and the interest of the Nazi prize crew which took command of her on the Atlantic October 9 was assured Sunday when Norway rejected a Nazi protest.

The American crew, however, has not yet been permitted to come ashore.

The German prize crew, which anchored the City of Flint in the harbor of Haugesund Friday against Norwegian officials' orders, still was interned aboard the Norwegian warship Olav Tryggvason.

Norway based her rejection of German protests over release of the ship and detention of its German crew on the argument that international law had been observed strictly in making the decision.

A communique said the commander of the German prize crew took the City of Flint to Haugesund contrary to Norwegian orders because, he asserted, he wanted to see the German consul there "according to orders from my government."

Of a reason he gave earlier—that a sick member of the American crew needed medical attention—it said a Norwegian doctor visited the vessel and found the man had suffered "insignificant" injuries.

BUS AND AUTO CRASH HURTS 12

(By the Associated Press.)
A skidding automobile plowed head-on into a bus at Doylestown, injuring 12 persons, in one of numerous accidents in Pennsylvania over the week-end.

Gravely hurt were William Archibald, 28, driver of the car; his wife, Julia, 26, and their two-year-old son, William, three passengers in the bus, none of them critical, were treated at a hospital.

They were Mrs. Julia Sabo, 59, of Wilkes-Barre; Mrs. Frederick Busch, 41, of Forty Fort, and Mrs. Joanne Reese, 72, of Scranton.

The accident occurred during Sunday's rainstorm.

James A. McDermott, 78, a retired railroad locomotive engineer, was struck and fatally injured by an automobile at a street intersection in Harrisburg.

Simon L. Zimmerman, 45, was electrocuted when he came in contact with a 2200-volt wire at a mine sub-station near Greensburg.

A large rock became dislodged, rolled down and killed Anthony Dominico, 60, as he picked coal on a mountainside at Hazleton.

Firemen found the unconscious form of Charles Reid in the dining room of his burning home at Norristown. He died an hour later.

A gun he was pulling from the brush during a hunting trip discharged and killed Joseph Sunda, 47, of Hazleton.

Injuries suffered in a fall down a flight of stairs proved fatal to Alexander Prehotsky, 35, of Kelayres. A shot gun charge killed Vernon Arentz, Jr., 15, as he hunted in Juniata county.

Four persons, all struck by motorcars in Pittsburgh, died of their injuries.

Auto collisions took the lives of Peter Wikete, 49, of Lansdowne, and Samuel H. Follock, 21, of Philadelphia.

The battered body of Thomas Kronz, 54, was found on a street in Philadelphia where police continued a campaign against hi-run drivers.

John A. Ickes, 67, was struck and killed by an auto on the main street of Milton.

LIKE MANY HUSBANDS, HE WAS FORGETFUL
Fort Morgan, Colo. (AP)—"He's been awfully absent-minded lately," said a middle-aged lady from California who called the state highway patrol office and explained her husband had driven off without her at Brush, Colorado, when they stopped for gas.

Forty miles down the road the state patrolman who was sent in pursuit drew alongside the absent-minded husband. The man glanced back and as he did so his eyes rested on the vacant back seat. He slammed on the brakes.

"My God," he shouted. "I've lost my wife."
"Yeah," said the officer. "I came to tell you."

HINTS U. S. MAY TAKE MEASURES AGAINST JAPAN

Washington, Nov. 6 (AP)—A prediction that the 1940 congress might follow up the administration's neutrality program, now in full operation, by authorizing economic pressure against Japan was made today by legislative leaders.

Chairman Pittman (D-Nev.) of the senate foreign relations committee said that unless relations with Tokyo improve before the Japanese-American commercial treaty expires January 26, congress undoubtedly would enact his resolution empowering the president to embargo "any or all" exports to Japan.

"Japan's entire attitude in China has been in total disregard of the rights of the United States and other countries," Pittman said.

Pittman was in the small group of congressmen Saturday who saw President Roosevelt sign the neutrality bill repealing the arms embargo and setting up a "cash and carry" system of trade with warring nations. The legislation does not apply to the undeclared Sino-Japanese conflict, however, because President Roosevelt never has found formally that a state of war exists in the Orient.

After signing the neutrality measure, the chief executive immediately exercised the discretionary powers it gave him to designate most European water as a combat area which American ships and travelers could not enter.

By signing the bill, Mr. Roosevelt cleared the way for a flood of arms orders from Europe's belligerents, especially Great Britain and France. Estimates of initial purchases from those two powers have run between $500,000,000 and $1,000,000,000.

All the goods will have to be transported in foreign ships. For the President defined as the combat area a broad zone extending north from Spain around Great Britain and Ireland to the Norwegian coast south of Bergen.

"I have set out the area in which the actual operations of war appear to make navigation of American ships dangerous," Mr. Roosevelt said.

"All neutral ports in the Mediterranean and Black seas are open; likewise all ports, belligerent or neutral, in the Pacific and Indian oceans and dependent water and all ports in Africa south of the latitude of the Canaries."

After putting the neutrality program into effect, Mr. Roosevelt went to Hyde Park, New York, to vote Tuesday. Most members of congress also returned to their homes, to remain until the regular 1940 session begins January 3.

The President had suggested that democratic and republican leaders in both houses stay here to consult with him on foreign policies, but those who left pointed out that they could return quickly in an emergency.

FOOD STAMP PLAN STARTED

Allentown, Pa., Nov. 6 (AP)—Grocers rolled up shirt sleeves today as food stamps—a medium to bring farm surpluses to the tables of the needy—went on sale here and in neighboring Bethlehem.

Bidding for the patronage of 13,630 relief recipients, merchants posted signs in windows reading: "Orange and blue stamps redeemed here."

Visualizing a big upturn in retail trade, townsfolk were buoyed with an enthusiasm reminiscent of the days when the blue eagle symbolized co-operative trading.

The stamp plan, spectacularly successful in the seven other cities where it was tried out, may be extended to other Pennsylvania communities if it goes across here.

Orange stamps issued by the Federal Surplus Commodities corporation may be sought by persons eligible for any form of relief and can be used to make regular grocery store purchases.

Each dollar's worth of orange stamps entitles the purchaser to 50 cents worth of blue stamps free. These can be used for buying foods specified as surplus by the secretary of Agriculture.

Foods listed as surplus under the Allentown-Bethlehem plan include butter, lard, eggs, fresh pears, fresh apples, onions, corn meal and wheat flour.

F.S.C.C. agents no longer consider the plan an experiment.

"It's a genuine, full-fashioned success," remarked Frank V. Lenham, one of the four agents in Allentown.

1940 BUSINESS BOOST MAY CUT FARM SUBSIDIES

Washington, Nov. 6 (AP)—Official predictions that 1940 would bring a moderate industrial and business improvement led farm leaders to speculate today on the possibility that the next session of congress may be able to reduce government subsidies to agriculture.

The bureau of agricultural economics, in its annual outlook report, said that farmers are expected to receive a larger cash income for their products in 1940 than in 1939.

"A slightly larger volume of marketings will be disposed of at higher prices," the bureau forecast.

The last congress appropriated approximately $1,000,000,000 for subsidies to finance crop control programs and for removal of price-depressing surpluses. While federal farm officials declined to give any figures for 1940 subsidies, they said that if the predictions of better prices and enlarged markets for farm products were borne out, the demand for government financial aid would not be so great as it has been for several years.

The economic bureau's forecast of improved business and industrial activity was based on a number of factors, including the export demand expected to arise from the European war, prospects for an increase in the output of automobiles and other durable consumers' goods, increases in capital expenditures and "less cautious" buying policies by business men generally.

The bureau said that the war should increase the export demand for such products as lard, pork, certain canned and dried fruits, and cotton. Among products for which a less favorable foreign market was foreseen were fresh fruits, tobacco, feeds and possibly wheat.

Another factor which may tend to lessen pressure for government subsidies, officials said, was a prediction by the economic bureau of a more favorable ratio of prices paid by farmers for things they buy to prices which they receive for their products.

Officials emphasized, however, that prospects for improved farm prices and markets were based on the assumption that the war would last another year.

Tending partly to offset better prices, the bureau said, are likely to be slightly increased unit costs of producing farm products. Higher farm wage rates, higher prices for farm machinery, building materials, fertilizers and seeds would contribute to such an increase, the bureau said.

BETTY CO-ED CLEANS A HOUSE
Kent, O. (AP)—Petite Betty Crampton, of Cleveland, 21-year-old Kent State university junior who wants to teach journalism, has turned "racket-buster."

Then Betty, in charge of the Stater's Friday edition, wrote a page one editorial.

"We have some housecleaning to do at home," she said. "Certainly the university is no place for football pools. Let college students who sell this 'racket' be disciplined."

A MUDDLED SITUATION BECOMES CRYSTAL CLEAR
Berne (AP)—The Swiss army complained recently that it couldn't get enough hay for its horses and mules to eat nor straw for them to sleep on, so the Swiss federal government issued a long decree governing the sale of hay and straw, designed to save enough for the army.

Unfortunately for the army the decree was so long and involved that many a Swiss farmer decided it meant he couldn't sell hay to anybody, the army included.

Finally the army cut the Gordian knot with a communique which made it clear that if it wasn't sold, it might be requisitioned.

The farmers said.

NERVOUS, SLEEPLESS?
If you are weak, nervous, can't sleep and always feel tired, you will find Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription a beneficial tonic. It aids in calming the nerves, and it stimulates the appetite and increases the flow of gastric juice, so aiding digestion, and thus helps to strengthen you. Mrs. O. M. Bellinger, 1436 E. 9th St., Erie, says: "I was nervous, weak, did not sleep well and never wanted anything to eat. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription gave me such a splendid appetite and I became stronger so quickly. I gained weight, was not nearly so nervous, and felt better in every way." Would Transfer U. S. Lines' Ships To Panama Service

New York, Nov. 6 (AP)—The United States Lines, banned by the neutrality act from European bel-ligerent ports, was reported today ready to apply to the Maritime com-mission to transfer nine of its eleven trans-Atlantic vessels to Panama registry.

Published reports said this step was planned so the United States lines could retain a foothold in the European trade under a foreign flag until it became possible to resume its normal American flag services to the now prohibited ports.

It was said that under present shipping laws the Maritime com-mission could grant permission to transfer the registry of the com-pany's ships to the flag of another neutral country that had not put restrictions on its shipping. Panama is such a country.

Although the ships could then legally be operated from New York to European ports, it was believed likely that crews of nationalities other than American would have to be hired.

The reports said the United States Lines was thus moved to dare the risks of war trade abroad under another nation's flag in the belief that South American markets would not expand sufficiently to keep its ships in service.

TO USE GOLD RESERVE
Washington, Nov. 6 (AP)— Gov-ernment circles predicted today that Britain and France would use the gold portion of their estimated $5,000,000,000 assets in the United States for their first "cash and carry" purchases of American air-planes and other war supplies. In-tial allied orders under the new neutrality law have been estimated by some officials as high as $1,000,000,000—all of which must be paid before the goods leave the country.

GERMANY CALLS EMBARGO REPEAL UNNEUTRAL ACT

Berlin, Nov. 6 (AP)— Authori-tative German sources said today that the lifting of the United States arms embargo was "unneutral" and intensified sea warfare appeared a likely consequence.

"American arms have been made available to our enemies," informed persons commented, "but these materials will have to get past our raiders."

These sources also intimated in view of the loss of the United States freighter City of Flint—taken from a German prize crew and handed over by Norwegian authorities to her American personnel—that Ger-many would deal more sternly with contraband shipments.

On the western front where the German high command Sunday found nothing noteworthy to report, there was "somewhat livelier recon-itering activity in several sectors" and "weak artillery fire," this morn-ing's communique said.

The communique also said that a French plane had been shot down by German pursuit planes near Saar-burg (Saarbourg-Moselle, France).

As disappointment became more apparent over the fact that the United States had, in effect, made available vast war supplies for Ger-many's enemies the foreign office mouthpiece, Deutsche Diplomatisch-Politische Korrespondenz declared the new law places a "serious re-sponsibility" on President Roosevelt.

This semi-official commentary contended that a desire "to buy profits with blood and the prosperity of other peoples" was the only con-sistent policy of a group of former war profiteers.

Adolf Hitler's Voelkischer Beo-machter expressed similar feelings. Headlining its editorial, "Roosevelt Yesterday and Today," the news-paper said:

"The American President Roose-velt on Saturday reached a goal to-ward which he has aimed unmis-takably ever since outbreak of the European war conjured up by Eng-land. He accomplished a change in the neutrality law which the Ameri-can people had given themselves four years ago after most careful consideration x x x."

The Berliner Montagspost directly blamed the President for lifting the embargo.

"The American President proved again that business—first of all and in any case—always remains the primary object," the newspaper as-serted. "x x x Herr Roosevelt and American war agitators and war-mongers promise themselves the big business."

While the newspapers editorialized on the Washington development, not a word was printed about the loss of the City of Flint.

Other sources, however, pointed to the fact that if the City of Flint had been sunk when the pocket battle-ship Deutschland captured her October 9 instead of being taken as a prize there would be no chance now that her cargo would reach Britain.

9 CARS DERAILED
Springfield, Mass., Nov. 6 (AP)—A nine-car Chicago to Boston express train was derailed today in a deep cut near the Westfield-Springfield line, injuring four persons, and bruising a dozen others.

Communists Attack United States Policy

Moscow, Nov. 6 (AP)—The com-munist international called on the workers of Great Britain and France today to "go against those who favor continuation of imperialistic war" and accused the United States of "warming its hands near the fire of war."

In a sharply worded manifesto, issued as the U.S.S.R. began a three-day celebration of the 22nd anniversary of the communist revo-lution, the international assailed the United States for repealing the arms embargo and also attacked Italy and Japan.

No mention was made of Ger-many in the manifesto, which oc-cupied four columns on the front page of Pravda, communist party newspaper.

"The bourgeois of the so-called neutral countries," the interna-tional said, "warm their hands near the fire of war x x x. Under the mask of neutrality they become rich on military supplies."

"The American bourgeois, very in-terested in further developing the war, repeats the embargo on the ex-

Would Transfer U. S. Lines' Ships To Panama Service

New York, Nov. 6 (AP)—The United States Lines, banned by the neutrality act from European bel-ligerent ports, was reported today ready to apply to the Maritime com-mission to transfer nine of its eleven trans-Atlantic vessels to Panama registry.

Published reports said this step was planned so the United States lines could retain a foothold in the European trade under a foreign flag until it became possible to resume its normal American flag services to the now prohibited ports.

It was said that under present shipping laws the Maritime com-mission could grant permission to transfer the registry of the com-pany's ships to the flag of another neutral country that had not put restrictions on its shipping. Panama is such a country.

Although the ships could then legally be operated from New York to European ports, it was believed likely that crews of nationalities other than American would have to be hired.

The reports said the United States Lines was thus moved to dare the risks of war trade abroad under an-other nation's flag in the belief that South American markets would not expand sufficiently to keep its ships in service.

TO USE GOLD RESERVE

Washington, Nov. 6 (AP)— Gov-ernment circles predicted today that Britain and France would use the gold portion of their estimated $5,-000,000,000 assets in the United States for their first "cash and carry" purchases of American air-planes and other war supplies. In-tial allied orders under the new neutrality law have been estimated by some officials as high as $1,000,-000,000 — all of which must be paid before the goods leave the country.

GERMANY CALLS EMBARGO REPEAL UNNEUTRAL ACT

Berlin, Nov. 6 (AP)— Authori-tative German sources said today that the lifting of the United States arms embargo was "unneutral" and intensified sea warfare appeared a likely consequence.

"American arms have been made available to our enemies," informed persons commented, "but these ma-terials will have to get past our raiders."

These sources also intimated in view of the loss of the United States freighter City of Flint — taken from a German prize crew and handed over by Norwegian authorities to her American personnel — that Ger-many would deal more sternly with contraband shipments.

On the western front where the German high command Sunday found nothing noteworthy to report there was "somewhat livelier recon-noitering activity in several sectors" and "weak artillery fire," this morn-ing's communique said.

The communique also said that a French plane had been shot down by German pursuit planes near Saar-burg (Saarebourg-Moselle, France).

As disappointment became more apparent over the fact that the United States had, in effect, made available vast war supplies for Ger-many's enemies the foreign office mouthpiece, Deutsche Diplomatisch-Politische Korrespondenz declared the new law places a "serious responsibility" on President Roosevelt. This semi-official commentary contended that a desire "to buy profits with blood and the prosperity of other peoples" was the only con-sistent policy of a group of former war profiteers.

Adolf Hitler's Voelkischer Bee-machter expressed similar feelings. Headlining its editorial, "Roosevelt Yesterday and Today," the news-paper said:

"The American President Roose-velt on Saturday reached a goal to-ward which he has aimed unmis-takably ever since outbreak of the European war conjured up by Eng-land: He accomplished a change in the neutrality law which the Ameri-can people had given themselves four years ago after most careful consideration x x x."

The Berliner Moitaagspost directly blamed the President for lifting the embargo.

"The American President proved again that business — first of all and in any case — always remains the primary object," the newspaper as-serted. "x x x Herr Roosevelt and American war agitators and war-mongers promise themselves the big business."

While the newspapers editorialized on the Washington development, not a word was printed about the loss of the City of Flint.

Other sources, however, pointed to the fact that if the City of Flint had been sunk when the pocket battle-ship Deutschland captured her October 9 instead of being taken as a prize there would be no chance now that her cargo would reach Britain.

9 CARS DERAILED

Springfield, Mass., Nov. 6 (AP)—A nine-car Chicago to Boston express train was derailed today in a deep cut near the Westfield-Springfield line, injuring four persons, and bruising a dozen others.

Communists Attack United States Policy

Moscow, Nov. 6 (AP)—The com-munist international called on the workers of Great Britain and France today to "go against those who favor continuation of imperialistic war" and accused the United States of "warming its hands near the fire of war."

In a sharply worded manifesto, issued as the U.S.S.R. began a three-day celebration of the 22nd anniversary of the communist revo-lution, the internationale assailed the United States for repealing the arms embargo and also attacked Italy and Japan.

No mention was made of Ger-many in the manifesto, which oc-cupied four columns on the front page of Pravda, communist party newspaper.

"The bourgeois of the so-called neutral countries," the interna-tionale said, "warm their hands near the fire of war x x x. Under the mask of neutrality they become rich on military supplies."

"The American bourgeois, very in-terested in further developing the war, repeats the embargo on the export of arms in order to secure huge profits to the kings of the munitions industry."

The manifesto, signed by the in-ternational's executive committee, urged the workers of the world to unite to "defend the Chinese people, to go against those who favor con-continuation of war and unmask them as helpers of imperialists."

Wives and mothers were told to "demand that their sons come back from the front."

6 MINERS TRAPPED

Charleston, W. Va., Nov. 6 (AP)— Chief N. P. Rhinehart of the state department of mines reported today he had been informed a "local ex-plosion" had trapped six men in the Brule shokless coal company mine near Mullens in southern West Vir-ginia. Rescue crews already have started into the shaft and it was not known immediately if any fatalities had resulted.
